

Brent Scarpo
Mama D speaker introduction

Out of respect for our featured speaker and our audience, please take this time to turn off your cell phone. Thank you!

Brent Scarpo has more than 20 years experience as a producer, writer, director and actor in Hollywood. He served as a casting director for such well-known films as Air Force One, That Thing You Do, and The Shawshank Redemption.

Additionally, Brent created the award-winning documentary, Journey to a Hate Free Millennium, the stories of Matthew Shepard, James Byrd Jr., and students of Columbine High school. Brent believes in the power of the human spirit and was privileged to acquire the award-winning documentary, Mama D, of which we will view the educational version this evening.

Brent believes that true leadership is born out of a single act of doing for others, community service, and the power of one individual. As we experience the film, each of you is invited to take a look at your own life, our community and our world.

Each individual holds the power to make a difference in the world and it starts with a single idea and the commitment to make it happen. Join me in welcoming a man who has done just that...Please welcome Mr. Brent Scarpo.
